Please note that SNORE Australia do not sell or supply therapeutic equipment. This is so that we can devote full concentration to sleep diagnostics in order to provide the highest quality of service. We also want to ensure that our patients will always be recommended a wide variety of treatment options.

According to the Australian Sleep Association's Standard for Sleep Disorders Services (June 2012), it is a requirement that "Where the service does not provide CPAP services in house, there must be an established relationship with a small number of suitably qualified CPAP providers who are able to perform these tasks on behalf of the service".

In line with these guidelines, SNORE Australia has developed relationships with several treatment providers. Our preferred provider is Air Liquide Healthcare & affiliates (ALH)*. We have identified ALH as a reputable supplier of sleep therapeutics, and believe that they are the best provider to fulfill our patients' therapy requirements. ALH provide our patients with:

- High-level, personalised support
- Training and education
- A wide range of masks and products
- A treatment trial period followed by on-going support
- Financing and payment options
- A continuum of support between the sleep study provider and the patient

Based upon the results and specialist recommendations of your study, we will arrange a consultation with your local ALH Sleep Therapist, at your convenience. The consultation is free of charge and holds no commitments or obligations to utilise ALH's services or purchase equipment. It is simply an opportunity to have a conversation with a sleep care professional and further investigate sleep therapies in relation to your own needs and preferences, which is strongly recommended by the Sleep Physicians we work with.

I hereby consent for SNORE Australia Pty Ltd to a polysomnographic sleep study and video recording of myself during the study, my contact details and sleep report(s) being released to the referring medical practitioner(s), Air Liquide Healthcare & affiliates and to any other medical professional(s) to whom I am referred in the future. I also give consent for SNORE Australia Pty Ltd to obtain my medical records from other health professionals.

I do not wish for SNORE Australia to release my details to Air Liquide Healthcare. I understand that it will then be my own responsibility to find a suitable treatment-equipment supplier myself, and organize with them my requirements for treatment.
